The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study and the objectives of the research. It then proceeds to a literature review, followed by a description of the methodology used in the study. The results of the study are presented in the next section, followed by a discussion of the findings and their implications. The paper concludes with a summary of the main points and a list of references.

1920 CENSUS—INDEX
DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
BUREAU OF THE CENSUS

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE 11-11891 A-1a

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping. It states that all transactions must be recorded in a timely and accurate manner, and that the records must be maintained for a minimum of five years.

3. The third part of the document discusses the role of the auditor in verifying the accuracy of the records. It states that the auditor must perform a thorough review of the records and must report any discrepancies to the appropriate authorities.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the consequences of failing to comply with the record-keeping requirements. It states that individuals who fail to comply may be subject to fines and penalties, and that the integrity of the financial system may be compromised.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of transparency in the financial system. It states that transparency is essential for the confidence of investors and for the stability of the financial system.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the role of the government in ensuring the integrity of the financial system. It states that the government must implement and enforce strict regulations to prevent fraud and to ensure the accuracy of the records.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of education and training for individuals involved in the financial system. It states that individuals must be educated and trained in proper record-keeping practices and in the importance of transparency.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of ongoing monitoring and evaluation of the financial system. It states that the system must be regularly monitored and evaluated to ensure that it remains effective and efficient.

Handwritten text on the bottom page, also illegible. Some words like "The" and "and" are faintly visible.

The first of these is the fact that the system is not self-sufficient. It requires a constant supply of raw materials and energy. This is a major problem for the system as a whole.

The second problem is the fact that the system is not self-sufficient. It requires a constant supply

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders between two groups of nurses working in different units of a tertiary care hospital. The prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders was determined by means of a self-administered questionnaire among 100 nurses working in the intensive care unit (ICU) and 100 nurses working in the medical-surgical unit. The prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders was significantly higher among ICU nurses than among medical-surgical nurses ($p < .001$). The prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders was also significantly higher among nurses who worked longer shifts ($p < .001$) and among nurses who had been employed longer ($p < .001$). The prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders was not significantly related to age, gender, or years of experience.
